Clothing and Safety for Hikes

- Guests bring their own clothing and footwear appropriate for walking outdoors. Participants must dress appropriately for the weather conditions, bearing in mind that weather can change quickly in this alpine region. Temperatures can drop quickly and weather conditions may deteriorate through the day. Some locations may be exposed to wind and cold. You may need a rain jacket and warm clothing.
- Some of the hikes are challenging and include steep sections, requiring a moderate level of fitness from all participants. Please discuss any concerns about the difficulty of the hike with your guide. There are options for easier or more challenging hikes.
- Some hikes and lookouts are close to cliffs and other hazards. Paths may have rough and uneven surfaces.
- Some hikes may not be suitable for very young children. Parents/care-givers are responsible for taking care of children at all times.
- Participants are required to follow safety guidelines and instructions by tour guides at all times. The guide may use their discretion to change the itinerary or cancel a hike, taking into account their knowledge of local conditions, weather and the capabilities of the group.
- Please share any medical conditions, physical limitations, dietary restrictions or allergies in advance and with your guide.
